REFERENCE

For over 15 years we have been building Okinet, a team of IT consultants with experience in an internet software house. We create web applications, websites or online stores. Our portfolio includes brands such as Wrocław City Bike, Santander or Asco.

Our approach to the implementation of the project for the client is characterized by an individual approach and careful listening to his needs. We focus on the quality of communication and flexibility, because this method ensures the common achievement of the goal. We were looking for similar features from an accounting service provider.

In cooperation with JWW, we value quick response and proactive support. A business partner who knows the specifics of the market and understands our strategy is the foundation for safe development and another reason to reach for more. We sincerely recommend the JWW accounting office to those who want to pass their matters into the hands of professionals.
